CAMPAIGN FLAG OF 1840 SHOWN AT CONVENTION

Pryor C. Tarvin, writing for the Cincinnati Times-Star at the Republican convention in Kansas City relates of the history of a Greene county flag of the campaign in 1840.

"A historic flag that saw service in the Presidential campaign of 1840 in Greene County, O., now on exhibit in the lobby of the Sexton Hotel in this thriving convention city, is intriguing the interest of delegates and especially those from the Buckeye State. The flag was in use in the campaign when 'Tippecanoe and Tyler, too' was the slogan that aroused the populace throughout the country. Thomas Corwin, who was the chairman of the Ohio Whig Campaign Committee back in those days, and John Sexton, the grandfather of S. E. Sexton, owner of the Sexton Hotel in this city, used this old flag at many a political rally.

"The names of Corwin and Sexton figured prominently in Ohio political affairs nearly a century ago in Greene County. After the campaign the flag was stored in the Sexton home near Xenia, O., where it was resurrected by the present S. E. Sexton and sent to Kansas City for this G. O. P. convention.

"The flag now decorates the wall in the lobby of the Sexton Hotel, where hundreds gaze at the historic emblem of a great political campaign in days gone by.

"Several of the Ohio delegates have suggested to Sexton that the flag be placed in some Ohio museum. This probably will be the ultimate home of the old flag.

"The flag shows the ravages of time. It formerly was attached to a lengthy pole. The pole has disappeared. For eighty-eight years this flag was suspended on pegs in the old Sexton home near Xenia.

"The words 'Tom,' 'Tip' and 'Tyler' run across the top of the canvas. The word 'Greene,' designating the county in Ohio, is in the center of the flag and below are these words: 'We bear our soldiers' gallant name and maintain our living fame, not ashamed to honor the man, but to save the republic.'

"Many delegates urged that the flag be placed on the stand in the convention hall. 'Flags and banners were used extensively in former political campaigns,' said Sexton, 'and this one was a particular favorite of Corwin, a noted orator, whose fame was nation-wide.'

"It is believed the name 'Tom' on the flag refers to Corwin. He made many speeches for William Henry Harrison and his running mate, Tyler, in 1840.

The Blue Bird Tea Room is now open on Sunday and chicken dinners are on the menu.

Theodore E. Burton

The announcement that Theodore E. Burton will enter the Republican primary as a candidate for Senator to succeed the late Frank B. Willis, will be pleasing news to Republicans in Ohio. There is need for an outstanding Ohioan in the Senate and Mr. Burton should receive the nomination.

Druggists Guests Of H. L. Sayre

XENIA, June 9.—Sixteen druggists of the Miami Valley, members of the Miami Valley Retail Club, were guests of H. L. Sayre, Xenia druggist, at the last monthly meeting of the year here.

The visitors played golf at the Xenia Country club in the afternoon while Mrs. Sayre entertained wives of the visiting members at bridge at the "guest day" party at the club house.

Members and their wives enjoyed dinner at the Elks club, after which was followed by a discussion of mutual problems.

Mr. H. H. Brown, local druggist, was among the guests during the evening.

Senator Locker Speaks in Xenia

United States Senator Cyrus H. L. Dyer was speaker at a meeting in Xenia, Wednesday evening. At 6 o'clock he was the guest of honor at a dinner meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Elks and gave an address. Later he spoke at commencement exercises of the O. S. and S. O. Home schools.

John F. Harshman Buried Saturday

The funeral of J. Fred Harshman, Xenia, former county commissioner, was held Saturday afternoon at the Reform Church in that city. He had been a resident of the county during his lifetime and served as commissioner for a number of years. He was also a member of the Masonic order in his city.

GREENE COUNTY WON HONORS AT FAT STOCK SHOW

E. H. Hutchinson & Son of Greene co. won first for the grand champion steer, the most coveted by all exhibitors at the Dayton Livestock Show last Thursday and Friday.

The animal was a black Angus, bred and fed by the exhibitors. It was easily the best individual beef animal ever seen at the show and fully equal, according to expert livestock men, to champions at the international. This steer was 17 months old and weighed 1200 pounds. In addition to the cash award, this steer won a trophy from the Dayton Savings and Trust Co. It was sold to Miami Hotel for 34 cents per pound.

The grand champion heifer was a product of the Whitehall farms at Yellow Springs. This animal was of the Hereford breed, pronounced by the judges, almost perfect.

Visitors freely praised the show saying that exhibits this year far surpassed those of 1927. David M. Fyffe, the veteran judge from Ohio State University, said the single and five animals in a group classes were far superior to the same classes at the recent show held at Cincinnati.

The prize winning steer of Clark county, owned by Silas Bell, sold for 25 cents per pound to the Springfield Abattoir Co., and was next to the highest priced animal of the sale. The prize winning heifer, also owned by Bell, was sold to Ohio Provisions Co. at 50 cents per pound.

Prize winning champion 15 heifers of the show, owned by H. F. Mellinger, were sold to H. Burkhardt and Co. for 15.25 cents per pound, while H. S. Mellinger's single animal brought 17.50 cents per pound. Fred Lebeck's five heifers, first prize winners at Dayton brought 15.25 cents per pound from Focke Sons and Co. Other Clark County cattle owners and sale prices were: H. F. Mellinger, one heifer, 15.50 cents; Fred Lebeck, 15 heifers, 13.60 cents; Harry Gascho, one heifer, 15 cents; and H. F. Mellinger, one steer, 16.25 cents.

The entire list of sales is as follows: F. H. Hutchinson & Son, one steer, Miami Hotel, 34 cents; Whitehall Farms, one, Van Cleve Hotel, 24.25 cents; James M. Cox, one, Miami Hotel, 18 cents; Silas C. Bell, one, Springfield Abattoir Co., 25.50 cents; Bert Favorite, one, Ohio Provision Co., 18 cents; W. C. Neff, one, Ohio Provision Co., 20.50 cents; H. H. Foster, one, Ohio Provision Co., 16 cents; James M. Cox, one, Ohio Provision Co., 15 cents; Silas C. Bell, one, Ohio Provision Co., 15.50 cents; Bert Favorite, one, Ohio Provision Co., 16 cents; H. S. Neff, one, E. W. Fulmer Co., 16 cents; Whitehall Farms, five, H. Burkhardt Co., 17.25 cents; Whitehall Farms, 15 Ohio Provision Co., 16 cents; Fred Lebeck, five, Focke Sons and Co., 14 cents.

H. F. Mellinger, five, A. H. Burkhardt Co., 15.25 cents; H. F. Mellinger, one, Dayton Packing Co., 25 cents; Whitehall Farms, one, H. Burkhardt Co., 17.50 cents; Bert Krouse, one, Ohio Provision Co., 14.50 cents; Ben Schaeffer, one, Charles Suher, 17.75 cents; H. Foster, 12 cents; H. Burkhardt, 14 cents; Harry Gascho, one, Healy and Co., 14.50 cents.

Howard Hoyer, one, Focke Sons and Co., 12 cents.

Bert Favorite, one, Henley Co., 14.50 cents; D. K. Killheffer, one, Charles Suher, 13.75 cents; Bert Favorite, five, Charles Suher, 14.50 cents; Bert Krouse, 16, Focke Sons and Co., 14.50 cents.

Warren Drake, 15, Kahn and Sons, 13.80 cents; H. W. Bell, one, Springfield Abattoir Co., 15 cents; Bert Favorite, one, Val Decker, 15.50 cents; H. S. Neff, one, Ohio Provision Co., 14.25 cents; H. F. Mellinger, one, E. Brenner, 15.50 cents; H. F. Mellinger, one, E. W. Fulmer Co., 16.25 cents; Bert Krouse, one, E. W. Fulmer Co., 14 cents; D. H. H. Killheffer, one, E. W. Fulmer Co., 14.25 cents; Whitehall Farms, five, Braun Bros., 14.3 cents; James M. Cox, five, E. W. Fulmer Co., 14.3 cents.

SON FINDS FATHER DEAD IN DITCH

Noble Fields, aged 41, tenant on the Henry Drake farm, on the Xenia and Wilmington pike, six miles from Xenia, was found dead Saturday afternoon in a ditch by his nine year old son. The boy was unable to arouse his father and had him taken to Wilmington where it was found that he died of heart trouble. He leaves a widow and two daughters and one son.

Duerr Pleads Not Guilty To Charges

Charged with obtaining property under false pretense, Carl Duerr, Dayton, O., pleaded not guilty before R. O. Corsey, justice of the peace, Thursday. He has the option of changing his plea and was placed in the County Jail in default of $1,000 bond.

Duerr was arrested by the Montgomery County sheriff's office on complaint of Sheriff Ohmer Tate and returned to Xenia by Deputy Sheriff George Sugden Thursday afternoon.

Duerr, it is charged, used a ruse to obtain possession of a Marmon roadster from a local garage last August, after it had been placed in storage following its confiscation in a raid by the sheriff and deputies on a liquor cache in Bath Twp.

The machine was removed from the garage the following day by Duerr, it is alleged, when he represented himself as having been authorized to take charge of it for the real owner.

After an investigation of several months, Sheriff Tate located the car in the garage of a Dayton woman and brought it back to Xenia. It was later brought out that the woman had purchased the car unaware that it had been stolen and it was then turned back to her on a replevin action.

Ray Wentz, Dayton, alleged to be the owner of the roadster, escaped from officers on the night of the raid, but is now confined in the County Jail. He was received several weeks ago from Dayton to serve a sentence on a federal bootlegging charge.

Claiming the roadster was being driven by Wentz with license plates issued to him for a Chrysler sedan, Sheriff Tate filed charges against Wentz and Duerr Thursday of driving an auto bearing license tags issued for another machine.

Arraigned before Judge S. C. Wright in Probate Court, both men pleaded not guilty.

Filing Time Closes This Friday Night

Candidates expecting to come before the Republican primary in August must have their declaration papers filed with the Greene County Board of Elections this Friday night by twelve o'clock. A number have already filed for various offices and those whose names have been mentioned in the past few weeks as probable candidates will likely file today.

Street oil was applied Monday to various streets about town to keep the dust down and aid in preserving the surface of the street. With a little care one can get about by motor or on foot. A few days of warm weather will set the oil so that it will no longer track.

A COMMUNICATION

Bath Township, Greene County, Ohio June 11th, 1928 To the tax payers of Greene County

Greetings—

We believe it is time that the tax payers of Greene County should know of a project that is being promoted at their expense. A project that if carried out, will cost the tax payers of the County upwards of $250,000, and benefit a few Real Estate dealers only. The International Development Company, one of their attorneys of Osborn, Ohio and one of the Real Estate dealers, Mr. A. Osborn, Ohio are working and have been working on the Commissioners of the County for the past year or two, for the establishment of a road that will be to their own special benefit. The people of Bath Township, and especially the people of Osborn, should be very grateful to the County Commissioners for what they have done for them. They have loaned the County Road machinery to the village of Osborn, to put a Tarvin street thru their main part of town. They have fixed and tarried Xenia Drive for a 1/2 mile thru their town. They are now working on Dayton Drive, another 1/2 mile in this town. They have just lately let a Contract for the Xenia and Fairfield Pike, at a cost of $185,000, for the benefit of this same community. Yet after all this these parties have the audacity to ask the County Commissioners to grant them another by road at the expense to the County of at least $250,000. A road that is absolutely not a necessity to the community. A road that borders this International Development Co., for all but a short distance of its course. A road that if allowed, will deplete the County Treasury so much, that other parts of the County will suffer for the next ten years. Are the tax payers in the other townships of the County going to sit idly by and allow this waste of money to go on? We think that it would be a matter of extreme presumption for the people of Bath Township, especially the people of Osborn, to ask the Commissioners for more funds for roads. This International Development Co., have bought a large tract of land south of Osborn, and have plotted it out in some 3000 or more lots, which they have sold and resold to the gullible all over the state. They have one house on this plat. So a road for them would be all cream. You could not tax vacant lots. While on this subject, we believe it would be a good plan for the County to send some appraisers over and tax these lots at something near what they are selling at. This would give Bath township some money to fix roads already built. The tax-payers of the County are vitally interested in this road scheme. You should make your interest felt. The final hearing on this project is to be given June 27th. Be there and make your protest. We invite your cooperation.

EGG SHELL RESISTS HAMMER

Columbus.—To demonstrate how strong egg shells may be made by proper feeding of hens, a device was shown at Ohio State University which delivered a twenty-five pound egg three times a minute on the end of an egg for hours at a time without cracking the shell.

S. K. WILLIAMSON DIED YESTERDAY; HEART ATTACK

The venerable Samuel K. Williamson, aged 82, died yesterday morning at 11 A. M. following an attack of heart trouble to which he had been subject for some months. While not as well as he had been the past few weeks, his condition was not regarded as serious up to his death.

The deceased was a native of this township where he spent his entire life. About a year ago he left the farm and moved to town.

Mr. Williamson was twice married, his first wife being Miss Belle Collins, who died about twenty-nine years ago. To them were born Emmett Williamson, Lemar, Miss., Mrs. Ella Demmlson, New Concord, and Collins Williamson of the Federal Pike, all of who survive, with the second wife, formerly Miss Maria Tarbo.

The deceased was one of three of the local survivors of the Civil War veterans. He was a faithful and devoted member of the United Presbyterian Church and one of our highly esteemed citizens.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 P. M. from the home, the service being in charge of his pastor, Rev. R. A. Jamieson. Burial will take place at Massies Creek cemetery.

FARMERS DEDICATE NEW HOME

When Ohio farmers who gathered for the formal opening and dedication on the Farm Bureau Building in Columbus, Tuesday attended the first event of its kind in the country: Ohio Farm Bureau are the first to build an office building to house their state headquarters. One of the largest groups of Ohio farmers ever attending a single day's meeting were present for the dedication program. A good delegation of Greene Countyans attended the Farm Bureau celebration.

WILL SEEK SECOND TERM

Judge S. C. Wright announces this week for his second term as Probate Judge. The term is for four years. So far as we have learned there is no probability of any opposition. At any rate political circles seem to have no one else under discussion.

FIRST REPUBLICANS GATHER AT WHITE HALL FARM IN 1854

Senator Simeon D. Fess, keynoter of the Republican national convention, convening Tuesday, will address representatives of a party, the idea of which if historic rumor is to be believed, was conceived in his home town, Yellow Springs, Greene county, and hatched a month later at Columbus.

Interwoven in the traditional and legendary history of the village, is the story of an epochal meeting, held at Whitehall farm, at the edge of Yellow Springs, in the late fifties, when leaders of the Abolitionist party were seeing the "handwriting on the wall."

Anxious that principles of the Abolitionist party should not perish, Aaron Harlan, then owner of Whitehall, or Walnut Hall as then known, was one of the most intrepid spirits of that one-time great party which was made up of members of the Whig, Free-Soil, Democratic, Know-Nothing and other minor factions which believed slavery was wrong.

Conditions in slave states were desperate, a survey showed; pro-slavery agitators were seeking to have Kansas and Nebraska admitted to the union with squatter sovereignty—the right to vote slavery into their own territories, if they wished. Abraham Lincoln was then beginning to make speeches against this, one of which, the Cooper institute address, brought him into the lime light and later helped to make him president. Stephen Douglass was also seeking to become president through pro-slavery efforts.

The entire survey caused Aaron Harlan, to feel the imperative need for something different in Abolitionist politics and policies if the anti-slavery cause was to survive and succeed.

So in late January, 1854, there gathered at Whitehall as guests of Aaron Harlan, a group of politicians whose common interest was in abolition of slavery. A knowledge of political visitors frequently seen there at that time made it probable this group included Whitelaw Reid, the crusading editor of an Abolitionist newspaper, just beginning to stir the county and state with his sincere expression of thoughts on the anti-slavery cause, both through his newspaper and as a public speaker; Lewis B. Gunckel, of Dayton, former classmate of Whitelaw Reid's at Miami University, and later a brilliant politician who reached the top of Buckeye local and political circles; Lewis David Campbell of Hamilton, fellow

HOOVER WILL BE THE NOMINEE OF THE CONVENTION

Judging from late returns from Kansas City, and the line-up of the vote on accepting the credential committee report, Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, will have the honor of being nominated on the first ballot at this hour of going to press. The "favorite son" and farm politician candidates will not be able to muster more than 400 votes. Hoover will have around 700, which is much more than his friends have predicted.

The feature of the convention to Greene countyans was the key-note address by Senator Fess, who is also being mentioned as a possible candidate for vice president.

The fight at this hour continues over the report of the resolution committee. Senator Borah succeeded in getting a strong prohibition plank inserted in the majority report. The minority report declares for the radical brand of farm relief and modification of the Volstead Act. At last the fine hand of farm relief advocates and modification of the Volstead law has been exposed. Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, a liberal, spoke for the minority report.

Following the adoption of the report of the committee on resolutions, nomination speeches will start. It is expected that but one ballot will be necessary to give Hoover the majority.

TAX COLLECTION TIME EXTENDED

County Treasurer, Helen Dodds, has been granted an extension of time for the collection of taxes by the County Commissioners. A thirty day extension was asked for and granted. All taxes must be paid by July 30 to escape the penalty.

WSMK MUST GO

The Federal Radio Commission has issued an order that WSMK, Dayton station, must get off the air by August 1st.

Go to the Blue Bird Tea-Room for your chicken dinner, Sunday.

HIGH POINTS OF FESS ADDRESS

The following are the high points as taken from the address of Senator S. D. Fess, who delivered the keynote speech at the opening of the Republican National convention in Kansas City, Tuesday. Coolidge—Few are his words, decisive his judgments. His comprehension of problems is broad, his vision clear, and his action dauntless. He leaves office by his own fiat, which appears to be final.

Under that (Republican) leadership we have reached the highest wage scale known in history, a principle which is maintained as sound economically. Today we are in the longest period of sustained business prosperity in our history.

This administration has enacted constructive and remedial legislation of no less than 24 pieces covering every phase of the agricultural problem. The purpose in further aid is to avoid the government taking over from the farmer his own control of the great industry but to assist him in that control.

It (law enforcement) is not a question of tolerance or of liberty, but of life, both national and individual. The Republican party is ready to call the roll on this false doctrine masquerading under the mask of liberty. It is ready to sound the moral tocsin against the present campaign of a noise-making minority whether in the interest of business profit or mere human indulgence.

We still hold to the doctrine of our fathers to avoid alliances. We willingly co-operate with all nations on behalf of public welfare, but refuse to commit ourselves and our resources in advance of unknown controversies.

The time is here when America must maintain rigid control as to who shall and who shall not come to our shores. The ambition of Republican leadership and policy is the open door to the maximum utilization of all our people of whatever class or race, profession or calling.

The (Mexican) situation has yielded to diplomacy, the rights of American citizens in that republic have been recognized and the way again opened for the two nations to co-operate in commercial growth and international good-will.

It is to be hoped that our influence in securing a fair election (in Nicaragua) will be the step to real stability, so that our marines need no longer remain to protect American citizens doing business in that country.

We have faith that a policy of unselfish service as displayed in our dealings with all struggling nations in their efforts toward law and order, including China, must meet with the approval of all friends of good government.

THEODORE E. BURTON FOR SENATOR

The announcement that Theodore E. Burton would be a candidate for Senator from Ohio, to succeed the late Frank E. Willis, is gratifying news to thousands of Republicans, who have always found Mr. Burton a man of undaunted courage standing for the right and yet recognized as one of the dominant leaders of his party. Of all the years that Mr. Burton has been in public life not once has his name ever been connected directly or indirectly, with sordid politics, corruption or scandal. He stands alone strong enough to command the respect of every citizen, regardless of party connection. He has always shunned the limelight, adored the sham and deception practiced by the average politician. Probably his master stroke was stripping Cong. Charles Brand on the floor of Congress of his "coat of many colors," an event that was commented upon by the press from coast to coast. Mr. Burton should have a large majority vote from Greene county.

JUNE BRIDES HOLD SWAY

This is the merry month of marriages. June has come to be the favorite time for weddings. We have no doubt that during this month several charming daughters of this town will be led to the altar. We want to wish them happiness.

June is a very appropriate month for marriages. In this month all Nature is gay. The plants are bursting forth with blossoms, the trees have taken on their summer dress, the sun beams kindness upon the world.

Let wedding bells, ring, then, in tune with Nature. Despite the mocking of cynics and the proclamations of professional philosophers, marriage is still the most holy, most beautiful and most desirable institution in society.

Therefore as June appears on the calendar one cannot help feeling a little contented, satisfied with the world, and hopeful for the future. June is the month of marriages—and marriages, for the most part, mean happiness. Kingdoms topple and fall; political changes bring new conditions; powerful men descend from their rich estates; change is eternal—but marriage still seems to hold its own!

THE VOICE OF METHODISTS

Only 50 out of more than 800 delegates to the late M. E. conference at Kansas City voted against the resolution condemning military training in our state universities. This is significant of the growing opposition to militarism. The Methodist church is the largest Protestant body in America and this vote is a striking indication of popular sentiment in our country today.

Besides the question of militarism there are other reasons for the abolition of compulsory military training in institutions which receive aid from state funds. Military tactics is an exotic in the college curriculum. Our country has had excellent colleges for more than two hundred years without military training in any of them. Institutions established on the land grant by congress for agricultural colleges were the first in which military tactics were made a part of the college course. The large majority of those who attend these colleges have neither the time nor inclination to study military tactics. Let our state universities give military training to students who desire it and not require it of all.

CAN BUSINESS ABSORB ALL OUR GRADUATES?

Every form of business is at this season of the year is beset with the high school, college and university graduate, seeking positions. This year as in the past more graduates have been turned out of our educational institutions than ever before. It is likely that next year's classes will be even greater than this year.

It is said that we have more than 400 institutions of the major class turning out graduates in this country yearly. As the standards and educational requirements are now much higher than in the past it must be admitted that a higher class of men and women are going into the channels of trade, in the ranks of science, law, medicine, ministry and education.

There is opportunity for only so many thousand each year in this country. The contest is on between the graduate of some years ago and the well trained young men of today. Those who have not made the best of their talent or have been lacking, are being dropped, only to fall back and they themselves crowd out others in a lower class. Thus the sifting process goes on to make room for younger men and women.

The statement was recently made that under our stress of living the average young person has now reached the peak at 45 years of age and from that time on begins to slip into the natural tendency of life that keeps him being as alert as formerly. Here again change shows itself that room must be made for younger people.

The lesson of the situation is that young folks are now face to face with making the best of their opportunity between the ages of twenty-five and forty-five. Applicants around fifty can testify that 50 years is no credit at this time.

THE FORTUNE OF POLITICS FOR LEWIS

Politics has its pleasures and misfortunes to those that indulge in the game, for a game it is with all the features of gamble that can be injected. You are up today and down tomorrow. You may rise to heights of estimation of your fellowmen today and by one misstep tomorrow be out of the running.

No one has tasted as little of the sweet and as much of the bitter in this great game as Charles Lewis, former lieutenant governor of this state. Two years ago Mr. Lewis announced for governor. He is a man that stands well in the estimation of those who know him. His interests are many from banking, manufacturing, farming to ownership of a newspaper. His wealth is estimated above seven figures. Mr. Lewis has all of this but he has more. He is a gentleman and regards his word as a greater asset than all his riches.

Events during the Republican primary two years ago caused Mr. Lewis to withdraw in favor of Myers Y. Cooper. It looked like a split vote between two wealthy men of equal standing and to insure the latter's success, Lewis dropped out. It was generally understood that Lewis was to have the next chance in event Cooper was not elected. Lewis contributed $1,000 to the Cooper campaign fund.

Cooper was defeated as is a matter of history. This year Lewis announced early and his friends again promised him loyal support. A few days ago Cooper again announced, regardless of his stand two years back. Failure to keep his word was more than Lewis could stand and he announced Saturday that he was out of the race and had quit politics for good.

Cooper was regarded as a dry two years ago. He had good standing in church circles but on no higher moral level than Lewis, who was a prominent Methodist. Cooper could not win two years ago with the church element, Anti-Saloon League, Klan and Utility support so this time he announces his candidacy with the endorsement of the wet organization in Hamilton county, the crowd that defeated him in his own county and precinct.

Mr. Lewis can sit back this year and watch the Cooper experiment. Cooper evidently must be suitable to the Cincinnati wets or they would not endorse him. He can still play tight and loose with the dry and the church element. If he can hold the utility lobby he can count on the Anti-Saloon League. He laid his pledge on the shelf this year with Lewis but that was only the misfortune of politics for Charley.

Mr. Lewis has retired with the reputation that his word was as good as his bond, a comfort that may soothe the sting brought about by one of two good friends breaking his word.

IT WILL BE HOOVER FOR PRESIDENT

Ever the time this reaches the readers of the Herald, Herbert Hoover will without question will have been nominated for president on the Republican ticket at the convention in Kansas City.

Much bombast has been let loose the past few weeks about stopping Hoover by a few disgruntled politicians and particularly what has turned out to be farm politicians. At no time with in the past few weeks have the "favorite son" candidates had a lookin. They have been divided on various issues and could not even agree among themselves. The best they could do was to keep up the noise and attempt to attract the public from Hoover.

The hold-outs also found what President Coolidge meant in the word "choose." The president evidently did not desire another term. Sec. Mellon and his Pennsylvania delegation went over to Hoover which only followed the early report of Mellon that Hoover was nearer the past standard of Republican candidates than any yet mentioned, except the Secretary's first choice, President Coolidge.

Hoover will make a strong candidate at the November election. He will back the Coolidge administration. He is no shirker on the prohibition question and he stands for reasonable legislation for relief of farm conditions, but not the equalization fee. He will be a candidate all elements of the party can support without controversy in November.

The SANDMAN STORY

ABOUT THE DINNER

"THE dinner wouldn't amount to much without our presence," said the lamb roast.

"You would burn and you would not be very nice," said the water which had been put into the tin with the lamb to keep it from burning. "If it were not for the water."

"And you could never be cooked if it were not for me," said the stove.

"And you would never have been lighted if it had not been for me," said a match which was now what would be called a "used match."

"And you would have gone very queerly if we had not been turned just as we should have been," said the dampers belonging to the stove.

"The oven would never have become warm if we had not made the burn well," said the members of the coal family.

"And we gave everything the first start," said the kindlings.

"You wouldn't be so good if we weren't to go along with you for the dinner," said the potatoes to the lamb.

"You wouldn't be a real meal if we didn't come along, too," said the bread.

"And what about butter?" asked the butter.

"The lamb was cooking and was becoming nice and brown on the outside."

"Every one wants water," said the jug which at that moment was being filled with water.

"Every one wants gravy," said the gravy.

"And they do need a dessert," said the apple pie.

"You wouldn't be so good if we weren't to go along with you for the dinner," said the potatoes to the lamb.

"You wouldn't be a real meal if we didn't come along, too," said the bread.

the apple pie as it waited upon a plate.

"And a cup of tea will be welcomed by several at the table," said the tea as it was being introduced to the boiling water.

"Of course," said the salt, "some of you—such as the lamb and the potatoes would not be very good if we didn't go along with you."

"We were needed by you, potatoes, when you were being prepared."

"I know who'll ask for three lumps of sugar in their tea," said the sugar in the sugar bowl.

"And milk will be asked for, too," said the milk in the milk jug.

"The pie would never have been pie without us," said the apples, "at least it would never have been apple pie."

"And the pie crust would have been a sad pie crust if it hadn't been for flour and baking powder, butter, water and a little salt," said these things together.

"But it needed some one who knew how to put them together," said a little creature who just appeared and who said her name was Fairy Ybab.

"Yes, it would have been a 'dreadful pie crust' if some one had just gone and thrown all those things together into a bowl without any sense or thought or knowledge of how to make a pie crust."

"But you're all so silly, all of you. In the first place all the stove would never have been started with out a human being starting it."

"In the second place none of you would have turned out right if you had not been properly made."

"And again you all form a part of the goodness of the dinner. The lamb plays the most important part in this meal—but everything has to work together."

"It's the same way with people. They must pull together to get the best results and the real happiness and so must a dinner to make it a success."

"You will be a fine meal—all of you—because each did its own part to make the meal a fine one. And the one who cooked the fine dinner knew how much little things such as seasoning had to do with tasty food."

"Now you're going in to be eaten, dinner, but even as good as you are, you would not be enjoyed if the people didn't have good appetites."

"Oh, yes, many things together make a perfect whole!"

And Fairy Ybab was off as the dinner was taken up to be served.

New Postal Rates Represent Some Reduction in Cost

The new postal rates provided by legislation just passed by the National Congress will represent a very material reduction, as compared with the old rates on a number of postal classifications, according to a communication from U. S. Senator S. D. Fess to the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, which strongly urged the enactment of this legislation.

The new law effects a reduction in second class rates, officially estimated at about $2,700,000. The bill as passed includes provisions as follows:

To restore the one cent postage rate of post cards.

To reduce the postage on advertising portions of second class matter.

To reduce the postage on magazines and newspapers when sent by others than the publisher or news agent.

To effect a minimum charge per piece of second class matter when there are more than 32 pieces to the pound.

To provide for bulk pound rates on third class matter.

To reduce the postage on fourth class matter.

To provide for accepting business reply cards and letters in business reply envelopes for transmission in the mails without prepayment of postage.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

SOAK a nice fat mackerel overnight, skin side up. Drain and change the water several times if it is very salt. In the morning for breakfast, cover with thin cream and bake in a hot oven, twenty minutes. Serve with baked potatoes. If the fish is very thick, pour boiling water over it at first and simmer ten to fifteen minutes, drain and then add the cream.

Dried Beef With Cream.
Take one-fourth of a pound of dried beef, cover with boiling water and let stand ten minutes then drain. Dilute one and one-half tablespoons of flour with enough cold water to pour easily, making a smooth paste; add one cupful of scalded cream, cook in a double boiler ten minutes. Add beef and reheat.

Hamburg Steak.
Make a mound of chopped seasoned meat, adding a pinch of cloves and grated onion with salt and pepper to season and cover the top with strips of salt pork put on in lattice form. Bake, remove carefully and place on a hot platter; serve with mushroom sauce.

Vermont Chicken Soup.
Reheat six cupfuls of chicken stock, seasoning with salt and pepper and a grated onion. Add one head of lettuce, shredded, and one cupful of green peas. Simmer until the vegetables are done. Beat one egg, add enough stale bread crumbs to make a paste and roll into small balls. Drop these into the boiling soup and simmer ten minutes, then serve.

Roast Beef With Gravy.
Place thinly sliced roast beef on a platter and pour over it reheated gravy to cover.

Meat and Nut Balls.
Take one cupful of chopped seasoned meat, add one dozen chopped almonds, one egg, one-half teaspoonful of salt and pepper to taste. Mix and roll into balls, place in a baking pan and pour one cupful of rich highly seasoned tomato sauce over them. When hot, serve garnished with water cress.

SEWING CLUB MEETING

The second meeting of the Pollyanna Sewing Club was held Thursday afternoon, June 7, at 2 o'clock. The Food Club also held their meeting at the same time but different plans have been made for the rest of the summer. About 17 members were present. A demonstration was given by Margaret Bailey. The books were given to the members and work was planned for the next meeting. A committee for changing the constitution was appointed those being Marian Ferryman, Sadie Griffith, and Helen Kennon. A new social committee was appointed for next meeting those being Marian Ferryman, Frances Taylor, and Lillian Thomas. Very nice refreshments were served by Isadore Owens, Sadie and Mae Griffith, and Lole Kennon. Last Tuesday, June 5, a meeting for the officers and leaders was called to plan the programs for the summer. The programs were read and approved at the meeting. Miss Stormont took the group down to Biris to select suitable dress materials. More demonstrations will be given at the next meeting to be held Thursday, June 14, at 2 o'clock at the Domestic Science Hall.

Poultry Tour Will Cover Four States

Extension Specialists Arranging Motor-Bus Trip—Will Start July 9, End July 23

Ohio poultry growers will make their first state tour in July. Extension poultry specialists of the Ohio State University have arranged a motor-bus trip upon which it is hoped at least 50 poultrymen and their wives will visit poultry plants in four other states—Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey, and New York.

The party will leave Columbus on July 9 and will travel through Pennsylvania and Maryland to Washington, D. C. A day will be spent sightseeing in and near the national capital, and the government experimental poultry farm at Beltsville, Md., will also be inspected. There will later be visits to Atlantic City, New York City, Cornell University, and Niagara Falls, aside from inspections of important and interesting poultry plants in the territory where land and labor costs are higher than they are in Ohio, an where the most modern methods are being used to overcome the handicaps of these high costs.

The party will return to Columbus on July 23. In each state the members visit, they will be accompanied by members of the poultry department of the state college. In Washington, they will be welcomed and guided by members of the United States Department of Agriculture. Reservation for the trip will be made through the Ohio Poultry Improvement Association up to July 1. Special club rates for meals and at hotels, have been secured for the members of the party.

Improved Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. E. B. FLETCHER, D.D., Dean of the United Methodist Church, New York City, 1928, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 17
THE CRUCIFIXION

LESSON TEXT—Mark 15:15-47.
GOLDEN TEXT—God commendeth His own love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Died for Us.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Christ Died for Our Sins.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why Jesus Chose the Cross.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Meaning of the Cross.

1. Jesus Crowned With Thorns (vv. 15-20).
After Pilate had scourged Jesus he delivered Him to be crucified.
The crown of thorns (vv. 16, 17). Knowing that Jesus had been condemned for claiming to be Israel's king they clothed Him with purple and crowned Him with a wreath of thorns. The crown of thorns typified the curse which He bore for man's sin (Gen. 3:17, 18).
2. Their salutation (v. 18).
They said, "Hail, King of the Jews." This they did in derision.
3. Their mock worship (vv. 19, 20).
They smote Him on the head with a reed, taunted Him and went through a performance of mock worship.
4. Jesus Crucified (vv. 21-41).
1. They led Him away to the place of crucifixion (v. 21).
At first they compelled Him to bear His own cross, but when physical weakness made this impossible, they compelled Simon, the Cyrenian, to bear it for Him. It is beautiful to note that the son of this Cyrenian came to believe on Jesus (cf. Rom. 16:13). In all probability his being compelled to bear the cross was the means of his own salvation.
Christ's face was so marked by the thorns and cruel blows that "there was no form or comeliness" (Isa. 53:2). All this He endured for us. He drank this bitter cup to its very dregs, but refused to drink "the wine mingled with myrrh," which would have deadened His pain.
2. Gambling for the clothing of the Lord (vv. 24, 25).
Having nailed Him to the cross they gambled for the seamless robe, under the very cross on which He was dying and in their heartless cruelty they set down to watch Him die (Matt. 27:35).
3. The superscription (v. 26).
It was customary to place over the victim on the cross the name and crime of the offender. Though Pilate did this in mockery to vex the Jews, the title was absolutely true. He was indeed their king.
4. Between two thieves (vv. 27, 28).
This added to His shame. His identification with the two robbers was the fulfillment of the Scripture "and he was numbered with the transgressors" (Isa. 53:12).
5. The dying Savior reviled (vv. 29-32).
This reviling was engaged in by the passersby, the chief priests and the thieves who were crucified with Him. In this nameless agony and shame they taunted Him by bidding, "Hail, come down from the cross, derisively saying, 'He saved others. Himself he cannot save. He thought not save Himself and others, so He chose to die to save others.'
6. Darkness upon the land (v. 33).
This was at noonday. So shocking was this crime that nature threw around the Son of God a shroud to hide Him from the gaze of a godless company.
7. The cry from the cross (vv. 34-36).
When God laid upon Christ, His Beloved Son, the world's sin and turned His face from Him, there went out the awful cry of anguish, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"
8. He dismissed His spirit (v. 37).
When the price of our redemption was fully paid, Jesus dismissed His spirit. No one took His life away from Him. He gave it up.
9. The rent veil (v. 38).
This symbolized the giving up of His life (Heb. 10:10).
10. The Centurion's confession (v. 39).
He said, "Truly this man was the Son of God."
11. The lingering group of women (vv. 40, 41).
They who had lovingly ministered to Him in life were waiting to see where they could bury His precious body.
12. Jesus' burial (vv. 42-47).
Loving hands now took the precious body and laid it in Joseph's new tomb. This man who did not consent to the foul treatment of the Lord, now risked his reputation and by his action makes a bold confession of the Lord.

How It Started
By JEAN NEWTON

"PERIPATETIC"

ONE does not have to be erudite to know the word "peripatetic" as related to a school of philosophy, that of the disciples of Aristotle, the Greek philosopher.

In everyday speech we find the word used in the sense of traveling, moving, wandering. Its modern use in this sense, however, is usually satirical or jocular.

It may seem a far cry from the philosophy of Aristotle to a modern ill-timed, yet it is precisely in that connection that we have the interesting story of the word's origin.

"Peripatetic" is of Greek derivation and means literally "to walk." It was from the circumstance that the followers of Aristotle, meeting in the "garden" of the Lyceum, were known to walk about during study that they came to be called "Peripatetics" and their philosophy "peripatetic."

Popularized by these ancient scholars, the term has survived in common speech where today it is used more or less lightly in its original sense of moving from place to place.

Beautiful Country Wedding Tuesday

The lawn and garden of the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Olin A. Debbins, near Cedarville, formed an ideal setting for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Ruth Debbins to Mr. Arthur B. Evans, Narragansett, R. I., which took place Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

About sixty guests witnessed the vows which were taken on the porch, surrounded by the attractive greenery and flowers.

The wedding ceremony was opened with several selections appropriate to the nuptial occasion, by Miss Dorothy Oglesbee and Miss Helen Illife, both of Cedarville, accompanied by Miss Lena Hastings.

The bride's maid was Miss Mary Williamson, Rawlson, O., and her other attendants were Joan Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Carr, South Charleston; and Lois Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brown, Cedarville, as flower girls; and Master Max Liming, of Quaker City, as ringbearer.

Miss Williamson in a frock of pink georgette and carrying an arm bouquet of roses, with the flower girls and ring bearer, preceded the bride. The flower girls were dressed in pink georgette, also and the ringbearer in a white satin suit. The bridegroom was attended by his groomsmen, Mr. Robert Turnbull, Cedarville, his fraternity brother.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of lace and satin with tulle and full skirt. The model was pearl trimmed and a shower of tulle fell from a headband of orange blossoms to the floor. She carried a shower arrangement of roses.

The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. A. Jamieson, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, Cedarville.

After the service, a three-course dinner was served in the Debbins home. Mr. and Mrs. Evans left Tuesday night for Rhode Island to visit Mr. Evans' relatives. They will return to the Debbins home where they will reside until next fall, when they will go to Columbus in order that Mr. Evans may complete his course at Ohio State University.

Mrs. Evans' traveling ensemble consisted of a tan georgette dress, with hat, coat and footwear to correspond.

The marriage is the culmination of a romance began when Mr. and Mrs. Evans were both students at Cedarville College. Mrs. Evans is a graduate of Cedarville High School and College. Mr. Evans, after two years at Cedarville, entered Ohio State University, and is now a junior. He is the son of Mrs. Frank Gould, Narragansett, R. I. He is a member of Sigma Phi Sigma Fraternity.

Kind Of Farming Is A Determining Point

Farmer Must Study His Locality And Adopt Type of Work Which Pays Dividends

"Some farmers do not make money because they do not carry on the right kind of business on their farms. One of the first things a farmer must do if he expects to make a fair labor income is to determine what type of farming pays best in his locality," says the rural economics department of the Ohio State University in an analysis of the accounts of a group of farms in counties lying along the Ohio river in southwestern Ohio.

In comparing the five farms with the highest labor incomes in the group, with the farms having the three low labor incomes, it appears that the best paid farmer were depending more heavily upon livestock for their profits, than were the low three. The high five derived 84 per cent of their cash income from livestock, while the low group obtained only 74 per cent of their receipts from this source.

The high five had 6.6 more milk cows to the average farm, 1.1 fewer brood sows, and 43 more hens, than the low-return group. The net increase in livestock on the high five farms was almost two and one-half times as great as on the low income farms.

For every dollar's worth of feed fed to the livestock on the high five farms, there was returned $1.47, while for a dollar's worth of feed the low three farmers obtained a return on only $1.05.

Farmer Caravan Did Not Reach Kansas City

The much advertised caravan of 100,000 farmers from the West riding by auto to Kansas City to protest the nomination of Herbert Hoover did not materialize. A park had been taken over to accommodate the farmers but according to press dispatches, less than fifty machines reached the park.

The rouse did not work on the seasoned politician nor excite him a bit for he knew it was not the farmer but the farm politicians that try to work the farmer that were making the noise. The Willis noises makers from Ohio did not make a ripple in the convention pool. They had no candidate, had no chance to vote for a candidate, and worst of all had no chance to even trade votes.

The delegates come home sick and sore without even a good excuse why they even went to Kansas City. In the future this aggregation of Daugherty followers will have about the same standing at home among friends they deceived, as they had at the convention.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT FOR BATH SCHOOLS

R. J. Warner of Rome, O., was appointed superintendent of the Bath township consolidated schools in the place of H. E. Zuber, resigned, and has accepted the appointment, it was announced Friday by County Superintendent H. C. Aultman. He was employed at a yearly salary of $2,800. H. E. Drewess, principal of the Osborn High School, was offered the position but declined. He has accepted the superintendency of the New Boston schools at a salary of $3,200, it was given out.

WILL INSTALL NEW SYSTEM AUTOMATIC SIGNALS

The Pennsylvania railroad board of directors has authorized the installation of a new system of automatic signals to replace the manual block system between Xenia and Columbus, at a cost of approximately $275,000. The new system, it is said, will permit closer spacing of all trains, expedite the handling of passenger trains and materially improve freight conditions. The new system will displace many telegraph operators on the system.

4-H FOOD CLUB OF CEDARVILLE

The 4-H Food Club of Cedarville met Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Frances Finney.

A demonstration was put on by four girls. Misses Wanda Jane Turnbull and Lois Kennon a sandwich filling while Miss Helen Kennon and Sadie Lois Griffith demonstrated a salad.

Following the business salad and sandwiches were served.

Two new members taken in were, Misses Helen Retzoff and Dorothy Faye Cox, both taking the "Salad and Sandwich" course.

The next meeting will meet at the home of Lois Cheney, Wednesday, June 20 at 2 o'clock.

NOTE SUIT FILED

Suit for $250, alleged due on a promissory note, has been filed in Common Pleas Court by Charles, Addison, Albert and Nathan Bosarth against O. L. and Blanche Smith.

The Exchange Bank and The Abel Magnesia Co. are named co-defendants. The plaintiffs claim the defendants own stock in the bank and in the company, and seek a temporary restraining order, preventing a transfer of stock. R. M. Johnson is attorney for the plaintiffs.
